February 16th 2010, 13.30 – 16.30 pm.
(doors close at 14.00 hrs)

What does it take to expand from a small project-based production company to a business corporation? The seminar focuses on the transition to advanced business models, such as working with investors and with a super-national business strategy. Both the organizational and the personal requirements necessary for doing so will be discussed:

- How did you get that successful? Is there any formula for success?
- What was your motivation? Was there a model for you in your life?
- Which are the lessons to learn, mistakes and defeats new entrepreneurs can learn from?

An exclusive group of new entrepreneurs will have the chance to get in touch with these two personalities of the media industry who share their experiences. The interview will be followed by a discussion and exchange of experience between the participants of media.net:catapult and filmmmentor.dk.

Drinks and snacks are served in the lobby after the seminar. Participants of the programmes Copenhagen Film Mentor and media.net:catapult are automatically assigned seating. Others interested, please write to msch@copcap.com to ask for a place.
