Connecting and Supporting Startups in the Capital Region

A new start-up is born in the capital region every day, making it a major hotspot in the European entrepreneurial landscape.

startup:net berlinbrandenburg provides a platform for new companies and fresh ideas. We help start-ups connect with each other, with larger corporations, and with institutions and investors. Our unique matchmaking events, roundtables and trade fair appearances promote innovative companies – so we can keep the Berlin start-up boom a long-term success story.
